What is the Youth Naturalist Program?

Middle school and high school students (grades 6-10) who are looking for a great outdoor adventure this summer are invited to participate in this unique naturalist program from June 17 - 21, 2019! During the Youth Naturalist Program, students spend time actively exploring natural areas along the Platte River in Hamilton County and Merrick County. Through time spent hiking in the prairie, sampling the aquatic life in the river, photographing out in nature or observing and learning about wildlife, students develop an appreciation for where they live and a care and respect for wild places. This is an excellent opportunity to gain valuable knowledge about Nebraska's ecosystems and participate in outdoor recreational activities such as kayaking, hiking and camping. Students also have the opportunity to interact with professionals with careers in science, natural resources, conservation and habitat/wildlife management. These activities will open new doors for students interested in these topics and help them find exciting new ways to enjoy the outdoors.

Who sponsors the Youth Naturalist Program?

The Youth Naturalist Program is a project of Prairie Plains Resource Institute (PPRI). PPRI is an educational land trust based in Aurora, NE since 1980. We focus on maintaining and restoring Nebraska ecosystems and create opportunities for education, research, stewardship and community development. SOAR (Summer Orientation About Rivers), our nature day camp for kids grades 3-6, is an award winning program you may be familiar with. SOAR campers explore the Platte River and other outdoor environments around Hamilton County. The Youth Naturalist Program is built as a continuation of SOAR and focuses on developing naturalist skills, outdoor recreation skills and introduces youth to more in-depth topics relating to the natural world.

Who can get involved in the Youth Naturalist Program?

Any student presently (2018-2019 school year) in grades 6-10 is eligible for the Youth Naturalist Program. You will need to apply to be a part of the program. We will accept up to 20 students. In the case that there are more applicants than we have space for in the program, we will select students based on their expressed interest in participating in the program and a teacher recommendation.

Why participate in the Youth Naturalist Program?

The Youth Naturalist Program uses an active, hands-on approach to learning and enjoying nature. We will spend time exploring and learning about the life present in the Platte River and on the prairie. You will have the opportunity to go on a camping trip and kayaking trip as a part of this program. You will gain many naturalist skills, from identifying animals and plants on the prairie to telling stories through nature photography. You will meet people that work in the fields of conservation, natural resources and habitat/wildlife management. You will view the area where you live in a new and exciting way. Students interested in natural sciences, agriculture, conservation or outdoor recreation are strongly encouraged to participate. Any students interested in spending more time outdoors, hiking, kayaking, camping and exploring these natural areas should participate!
