Financial Assistance: Student Scholarships Available

Financial assistance is available to students that qualify. Scholarships can help cover the registration fee of the program and are based on expressed financial need. If you feel you may qualify for financial assistance, please contact the Young Nebraska Ecologists coordinator, Sarah Bailey, and request a scholarship application (see email and phone number above). Note that scholarship forms are kept completely confidential and are for Prairie Plains Resource Institute office use ONLY. If you believe you qualify and plan to apply for a scholarship, you do not need to send a check with this application (please make note of this on the application). Prairie Plains will review scholarship forms and notify students and their families about scholarship awards. Please do not hesitate to contact the Young Nebraska Ecologists coordinator with any further questions about applying for a scholarship.
